Queen Bee Jean

On a sunny day, Queen Bee Jean sat on a green leaf . What did she see? "I can see a big peach tree near the concrete street. I can see a leaping flea. I can see a cup of tea, but I cannot see the sea. I need to see the sea! The sea has heaps of things wild and free."

Queen Bee Jean went to the beach.

"I can see a seal in the deep. I can see a man to meet. I can see a seagull's beak, but I cannot see a sheep. I need to see a sheep! A sheep that is free and close to me."

Queen Bee Jean went to the farm.

"I see a sheep and it can run. I see a beetle in the sun. I see a cat and it is sweet, but I cannot see my street. I need to see my street!"

Queen Bee Jean went back to her garden.

"I am lucky. I have seen a lot this week! I went to the beach, the farm and my street. It is good to be me as my day is complete," said Jean. "But I feel like I need to sleep!"

Did you understand what you read?

1. What could Queen Bee Jean see when she sat on the green leaf?
2. What did Queen Bee Jean see at the beach?
3. Do you think Queen Bee Jean likes cats? What words in the story tell you that?
4. Why did Queen Bee Jean feel like a sleep?

Let's learn a new word: Leaping

Leaping means to do a big jump or to spring a long way. Queen Bee Jean saw a leaping flea. Can you use the word 'leaping' in a sentence?
